Wrinkles

Come surely to weak women, who have to frown and endure the torture due to the diseases peculiar to their sex. Not only wrinkles, but hollow, lack-lustre eyes, sallow complexion, gray hair, all of which tell of premature old age. The prevention of this lies in your own hands. Use the disease that causes your suffering, and strengthen your weakened constitution, with

WINE OF CARDUI

of which Mrs. Mary Irvin of Farmington City, Va., writes: "I think it is the best on earth for all suffering women. My doctor did me no good. I suffered untold misery from head to foot, but the first dose of Cardui gave me relief, and when I had taken one bottle, I felt like a new woman." The above seems to prove that Cardui will relieve your pain, strengthen your constitution and renew your youth. Try it.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1907.

Should the tariff be revised, and if so, when? Probably there is no question so hotly debated, nor on which there is a greater difference in the Republican party than this, and it is moreover, in the opinion of some of the ablest of the party leaders, the one proposition of which the opposition may be able to make some party capital. That the tariff schedules should not be touched by the approaching Congress is very generally conceded, and the reason advanced for the postponement of the important work are all sufficient. Were the coming Congress to make many changes from the Dingley schedules, its action would be distorted and misrepresented by the Democratic press and Democratic stump speakers, and before the people would have had time to learn the falsity or fallacy of such charges and arguments they would be called upon to express at the polls their views in a national election. Men who had been told that their business would be seriously injured, if not ruined, would fear the worst and probably vote against the men whom they held responsible, only to learn too late that they had been misled and deceived.

The policy advocated by the president, by Secretary Taft and other leaders of the party, however, contemplates a special session of Congress, called immediately after the new President shall have been inaugurated and called solely for the purpose of examining the tariff schedules and altering such as may be changed conditions, have become disproportionate. Practically four years will then elapse before another national election, two years before another congressional election, and by that time the people will have learned for themselves the truth concerning a Republican revision, or re-adjustment.

That the tariff needs some re-adjustment is asserted by the ablest students of the subject, with the single exception of the representatives of those industries which are now enjoying unfair profits as a result of the existing schedules. For instance, the manufacturer of almost every type of machinery insist that they cannot benefit from the improved methods of manufacturing steel, and thus purchase their raw material as reasonably as they should, until the tariff on steel is reduced. The only opponent of such reduction appears to be the Steel Trust. Other manufacturers maintain that their business will be increased when some of the materials they are compelled to buy are reduced by a decrease in the existing schedules. It is urged that it requires experts to determine what reductions may be properly made, but a Republican Congress can always consult such experts. It made the Dingley law and proved it was able to frame a tariff law that was both right and just, and to assert that a Republican Congress cannot alter to meet changed conditions the tariff law which it has made is practically to assert that the creature is greater than the creator. The advocates of no change appear to forget that those who urge revision are not advocating revision by the Democrats, who are always hostile to the protective system, but re-adjustment by men who believe heartily in the policy of protection and who will no more sacrifice American industries today, or two years from now, than they did when they replaced the ridiculous Wilson-Gorman tariff bill with the Dingley law.

TAX LAWS

Will Be the Subject of National Convention in Ohio.

Governor Harris Invites Executives of Other States.

To Name Delegates to the Conference in November—Speakers of Note Will Be Heard.

(Cincinnati Enquirer, Aug. 21, 1907.)
Governor Harris has extended invitations to the chief executives of each state in the Union to appoint three delegates to attend a national conference of the National Tax association next November.

The tax laws of the several states are as varied as they can possibly be. The object of the conference is to call attention to this lack of uniformity, and to suggest ways and means to remedy the apparent evils.

The president of the association, Mr. Allen R. Foote, has invited all auditors or controllers of state; all members of state tax commissions; boards of equalization and state tax commissioners; the president and professors of economics and public finance of all universities; and a large number of persons prominent in public and business affairs throughout the country, to attend and participate in the deliberations of this conference.

A list of subjects proposed for discussion and of persons who, up to date, have accepted invitations to prepare papers discussing specific branches of the subject, is given below. Other leaders of economic thought and experienced administrators of state and local tax laws will be added to the list of prepared papers from time to time until all arrangements for the conference are completed.

The Proposed Reforms.

The purposes of the conference are thus announced:

To secure an authoritative and exhaustive discussion of the subject of state and local taxation in all of its details.

To produce a volume of proceedings containing the best thought of those who, by reason of their special educational training and practical experience, are qualified to speak with authority upon the special branch of the subject they may elect to discuss.

To furnish to the members of the legislatures of the several states a concrete, up-to-date statement of the economic and business principles that should be applied in state and local taxation, to be used as a guide for their action when considering proposals to improve the tax laws of their respective states and in the administration of the same.

By this means to secure the application of correct economic and business principles in all tax legislation, and thus develop a high degree of uniformity in the tax laws of the several states.

By securing uniformity in state tax laws, to eliminate the evil of changes in legal residence and in the location of business undertakings induced by differences in state tax laws, and to create conditions of high value in aid of the effective and economical management of the financial affairs of all state and local governments.

The following partial list of papers and their authors shows that the discussions at this conference as a subject of state and local taxation will command the attention of the intelligent public throughout the country:

"Separation of State and Local Revenues." By Professor Edwin R. A. Seligman, Columbia university, New York city.

"Separation of State and Local Revenues." By Professor T. S. Adams, Wisconsin university, Madison, Wis.

"Taxation of Public Service Corporations." By Carl G. Plehn, professor of finance and statistics, University of California, Berkeley, Cal.; expert on taxation and public finance, state of California; commission on revenue and taxation.

"Outline of a Model System of State and Local Taxation." By Lawson Purdy, president of board of taxes and assessment, New York city.

"Home Rule in Taxation." By Solomon Wolf, member of Louisiana state tax commission, New Orleans, La.

"Enoch Enslay's Contribution to Taxation Literature." By M. E. Ingalls, chairman executive committee, C. C. & St. L. Railroad company, Cincinnati, O.

"Incidence of Taxation." By A. C. Pleydell, secretary of New York Tax Reform association, New York city.

"Economic and Statistical Value of Uniform State Laws on the Subject of State and Local Taxation." By L. G. Powers, chief statistician of the bureau of the census, Washington, D. C.

Methods of Assessment.

"Methods of Assessment, as Applied to Several Classes of Subjects." By James B. Hoyle, professor of economics and political science, State University of North Dakota, Grand Forks, N. D.

"Taxation of Income." By Charles Lee Raper, professor of political economy, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

"Bribe Rule." By William O. Matthews, attorney at Ohio Tax league, Cleveland, O.

"The Single Tax." By C. B. Fillion, president of the Massachusetts Single Tax league, Boston, Mass.

"Relation of Taxation to the Credit System." By W. G. Langworthy Taylor, professor political economy and commerce, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb.

"Taxation of Money and Credits." By Frank G. Pierce, secretary of the League of Iowa Municipalities, Marshalltown, Ia.

The National Tax association includes in its membership prominent persons in almost every state in the Union, who are interested in the subject of taxation. The officers are: Allen Ripley Foote, former editor of Public Policy and commissioner of the Ohio State Board of Commerce, president; Lawson Purdy, president of the department of taxes and assessments of New York city, vice president; Foster Copeland, president City National bank, Columbus, treasurer; Mary C. Snyder, Columbus, secretary.

In addition to those who will take an active part in the conference, and besides the delegates to be appointed by the chief executives of the several states at the invitation of Governor Harris, there will be present many of the governors of the states and prominent officials of the state and national governments, who will participate in the discussion and profit by the proceedings.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF UNITED STATES INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION.

Signed by Governor Harris and Twelve Commissioners.

1. That the states abandon the general property tax and raise their revenues by taxes upon corporations, individuals and income, supplemented when necessary by indirect taxation; that local revenues be raised by taxes on real estate and personal property under the general property-tax system as at present.

2. That corporations, public service corporations, be taxed by state boards, at rates fixed by legislation, upon the value of their franchises assessed according to the actual value of their stocks and bonded debts, less the value of their real estate assessed locally, and that the real estate owned by them be taxed locally as other real estate is taxed.

3. That the revenues received from public service corporations should be returned to the municipalities where the properties of said corporations are located or operated.

4. That the system of levying graduated taxes upon inheritances be adopted by those states which do not now employ it, and that it be abandoned by the federal government.

5. That taxes upon corporations, inheritances, etc., be supplemented by a graduated tax upon incomes, to be levied and collected by the state.

6. That notes, mortgages, and other like property be taxed by the state at full value, but at low fixed rates, through an appropriate listing and recording system similar to the Pennsylvania method, and proposed by the New York legislative committee of 1899.

7. That the general property tax upon real estate and tangible personal property be supplemented by special taxes or licenses upon any business that is not by the general property tax made to bear its just share of the local public burden.—(1902, Vol. XIX.)

ENORMOUS VALUE OF REALTY IN NEW YORK.

In his report to the mayor, President of the Tax Board Lawson Purdy makes this interesting comment on the land values of New York city.

"The value of land today in New York city is so enormous that it is hard to realize its amount without some comparisons. The assessed value of land alone, exclusive of improvements in the city of New York, is greater than the assessed value of all the real estate, improvements included, in the state of Pennsylvania and nearly twice as great as the value of all the real estate, including improvements, in the state of New York outside the city.

"The assessed value of the land for six square miles of Manhattan in the neighborhood of Central Park is greater than the assessed value of all the real estate in the state of Missouri."

Epilepsy Fits St. Vitus Dance

Are nerve diseases, and unless checked, lead to de-ruination of both mind and body. The weak, shattered nerves must have something to strengthen and build them back to health. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a remarkable nerve tonic and stimulant. It strengthens the nerves, relieves the nervous strain, and influences refreshing body-building sleep and rest. Persistent use seldom fails to relieve these afflictions.

"I was taken with epileptic fits; had eleven in less than 12 hours. My father sent for our family physician, but he could do very little for me, and I grew worse every day, and at last they had three doctors with me, and I still got worse. My father heard of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and bought a bottle of Nervine and a box of Nervine and after five days I began to feel better. I took 12 bottles, and I cured myself. I feel like a new man, and I can do the world to me. I recommend it whenever I get a fit. You may see this as a life-long testimonial to the merits of your medicine, for I am enjoying the best of health, and feel that life and health is due to this wonderful medicine."—R. F. D. No. 2, Boston, Ga.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

ONE CANDIDATE
From Collier's Weekly.
One candidate for the presidency is now in Cuba attending to some business for the United States. "Looking" her one public interest of another. Indeed even his steady lifetime job. He was a young man when a judge'ship came to him unsought. Heavier and heavier responsibilities have seemed to gravitate toward him; perplexed and baffled men have instinctively sought his help. He has gone about each new task in a quiet, steady fashion, without any consciousness of himself or of the gallery. A placid and vague satisfaction over a piece of work rather well done has seemed to be the most exciting emotion in his temperament; and glory has never seemed able to focus his imagination on anything less rosate than the business of tomorrow.

DECLARES FOR TAFT.
The Noble county Republican executive committee has endorsed Secretary William H. Taft for the presidency of the United States by practically unanimously adopting the following resolution:
Be it Resolved, by the Republican executive committee of Noble county, Ohio, that Whereas, William H. Taft will be a candidate for president before the next national Republican convention, and inasmuch as he has shown himself to be an able, fearless statesman, has proven himself equal to all emergencies in the varied and responsible positions he has held, is in exact accord with the president on all the important problems and policies that the present administration has attempted to solve and inaugurate; and
Whereas, He is one of that class of men whose purpose it is to look to the welfare of the whole people, and one of that class who are above taking advantage of the great mass of our common citizenship to further the interests of the select few; and
Whereas, There is a movement on foot to kill off the influence of President Theodore Roosevelt by defeating his policies and his friends in the next Republican national convention; and
Whereas, We thoroughly believe in the present administration and want its policies continued; and
Whereas, We believe that there is no more able, nor better fitted man in the United States to take the place of Theodore Roosevelt than William H. Taft; and
Whereas, We believe it to be to the best interests of our people here in our county and our state, and in the country generally, to stand firm and steadfast in the present onward movement towards a government by and for the people, known and recognized as "Rooseveltism"; and Resolved, That we, the members of the Republican executive committee of Noble county, Ohio, endorse William H. Taft for president in 1908 and pledge ourselves to do all that lies in our power to secure favorable action in his behalf in this, the Fifteenth congressional district of Ohio.
